Office Action Summary

Art Unit:

DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, claims 1-11 in Paper No. 10 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that mechanisms that are so related to each other that operation of one mechanism requires use of the other mechanism are a single invention which are to be permitted in a single patent application. This is not found persuasive because the key blank and key of claims 12 and 20 do not require the specifics of the coded locking discs of the combination claims 1-11. Claims 12 and 20 recite a key blank and key for the combination of claim 1. There is no structure to the lock and coded locking discs being positively claimed in claims 12 and 20. Claims 12 and 20 also refer to possible profile grooves. The only structure which is positively claimed in claim 12 is a rectangular shank with a bevel surface. Clearly, this is a patentably distinct invention from what is claimed in claim 1. The same is true of claim 20. Further, the key blank of claim 12 does not require use with a coded disc locking mechanism as recited in claim 1. The rectangular shank with a bevel surface in claim 12 can be later combined to be used with a pin tumbler lock, if so desired. The same is true of the key of claim 20.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. Claims 12-27 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper No. 10.

Art Unit:

3. This application contains claims drawn to an invention nonelected with traverse in Paper No. 10. A complete reply to the final rejection must include cancellation of nonelected claims or other appropriate action (37 CFR 1.144) See MPEP § 821.01.

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-3, 5, 6, 8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by the UK reference (119).

The UK reference (119) teaches all of the claimed structure including plural code locking discs as seen in fig. 3, wherein the discs include a notch 12, a first counter surface 18 for turning the discs in a first direction, a second counter surface diametrically spaced from the surface labeled 18 for also turning the discs in the first direction, locking bar 8, and a key having a set of combination surfaces for each disc. The two diametrically spaced surfaces 17 define at least two combination values. The surfaces 17 which engage other tumblers define a second set of combination values. Each disc is turnable, and turnable to its opening position, by either or both of the combination value surfaces 17 for each disc. With respect to claim 2, diametrically spaced surfaces 17 are regarded as both spaced from each other, and at different angles. That is, the surface labeled as 17 in fig. 3 is roughly at the two o'clock angular position, and its diametrically spaced surface 17 is at an eight o'clock angular position. With respect to claim 3, there is no apparent reference frame claimed to define the 30 degrees. With respect to claim 8, surface 25 defines a return surface. With respect to claim 10, the return surfaces 25 also define a counter surface such that the lock is "operable" in a second turning direction.

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the UK reference (119) in view of Martikainen.

Martikainen teaches at least one 0-locking disc 5 with a smaller key opening than the locking discs 7. To utilize a 0-locking disc with the lock of the UK reference (119) would have been obvious in view of the teaching of Martikainen.

8. Claims 4, 9 and 11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3, 5-8 and 10 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit:

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
